Prepare both a summary paragraph and a general description of the resource and its various elements as it exists today.

The Warren House, built c. 1905, represents an eclectic combination of Queen Anne and Shingle style features. One of the most prominent features of the house is the large gable roof which sweeps down over the second story and porch. There are pedimented roof dormers and a hexagonal turret with a low pitched hexagonal roof and finial. The porch has exposed rafter ends, balustrade and turned posts.
